

... that's not enough for balancing!

The above looks like a line with gaps and not like three balanced columns. However, whatever value you use for `minrows`, it will look ugly with this input.